

Robert Davidson

A recognized leader in the field of fire protection and emergency management, Mr. Davidson has more than thirty years of experience in both the volunteer and career fire service. He retired as Fire Marshal in charge of the Fire Safety Division of the South Brunswick Township Code Enforcement Department with responsibilities including enforcement of the Uniform Fire Code and the Office of Emergency Management. He has experience teaching a variety of subjects involving health, safety and code enforcement for Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey; The University of Medicine and Dentistry; Middlesex County College and the Middlesex County Fire Academy. He has gained national recognition as the Chair of the International Code Council's International Fire Code Development Committee and he chairs the Subchapter III, (Fire Prevention Code), subcommittee for the NJ Fire Safety Commission's Code Advisory Committee. In 2006 Mr. Davidson was the recipient of the International Code Council's Annual Fire Official of the Year Award. He is currently the Managing Partner of Davidson Code Concepts, LLC, www.davidsoncodeconcepts.com.